

Dear Parents and Carers

We are planning on opening for all students tomorrow (Thursday). We have an increasing number of both staff and students who are self-isolating but we DO NOT have any confirmed cases. I will inform you if this changes. I will update you on plans for Friday at some point tomorrow.

Following the Prime Minister's announcement this evening, it has been confirmed that all schools will close from Monday, for the vast majority of students. Some students, including those of key workers, will be able to attend if they wish and are healthy. At present we have no more details on how this will work, and I expect to receive this from the government tomorrow. Once we have details, I will publish how we plan to make this work.

Thank you again for your messages of support in what are very challenging circumstances for us all.

Adrian Ward

Headteacher